(for Thalonda)

67

While, I do not recall hanging up on my mother, she had left a message on my machine about how hurt she was by my "hanging up the phone" on her. She said, "I thought we have always been close." I don't remember having hung up on her. She knows I and senses that I am at a crossroads and encourages me to follow my heart, to use my security deposit to "get out of Dodge City" — to find my nephew and "save" him from the Abyss.

She seriously comprehends how real my love is for Thalonda and agrees that Thalonda is apparently not capable of truly appreciating my presence, whereas, of all people in this earth right now, my nephew does appreciate my presence. I'm just afraid I may leave before "the miracle happens." Wouldn't this be TRAGIC?

Does he
I don't feel it any more.

REVELATION: in Stand On Sardinia, Brunner speaks in some deep revelations... about spending his free time "completing his education," & filling in the gaps, and even solving "problems" unconsciously. See p 37-38 & 48, 49...

"Some mechanism at the back of his mind seemed ceaselessly to be shifting around factors from the surrounding world, & hunting for patterns in them, and when such a pattern arose, a silent bell would ring inside his skull."

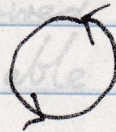

Truth be told, I most likely do not control the cognitive unconscious, & and, therefore can't even prevent my brain from solving complex problems - even in my sleep.

Could my algebraic competence just be a "tip of an iceberg" of deeper problem solving abilities?

Why can't I solve my "alcohol problem"? Isn't there more joy in private studies and the exercising of my intellect than in jammin' to music & white drunk?

I found some very rare and unique texts on Mathematics light enough to carry to Washington when I relocate. I wonder if I just ought to rent a vehicle.

Wednesday, the 15th of October 2008

I awaken believing in the POWER of LIFE. Didn't my brother-in-law, Joe, used to tell me to "have faith in life"?

I don't want to end up back in a cage. I have enjoyed living so close to the Ocean.

In my mind upon awakening is the girl / young woman who works at the Asbury Park Public Library. She had black eye-liner on yesterday. Is my "fear" of homelessness even justified? Is it possible for me to still live the life of a scholar if I don't have a residence?

#

Did John Brunner realize what he was doing when writing Stand On Zanzibar?

The last thing I read before "slipping into my drunken monkey routine" was continuity (3) "AFTER ONE DECADE" ... Donald Hogan sleeps off a drunk on the bed of an out-of-work poetess. The world looked a little better when he woke up.

"But he wished desperately that there could be someone - not this girl necessarily, not even a girl at all, just a person - to whom he could explain why it was he had been moaning in his sleep."

#

I contacted section 8 worker and am now seriously considering "relocating" - escaping from New Jersey. If my nephew is able to convince section 8 people in Washington (State) to "absorb" me, then I may leave everything here in Jersey - in Mom's basement, and start over in WASHINGTON.

It's uncanny how so often these notebooks flow like a book, where one ends with some dramatic event or turning point in life unfolding as a story.

It was the 16th of September when I was just finishing the MADNESS THEORY series. When I & S called me after not speaking to me since mid-May (Mother's Day). That event was recorded at the start of the VIBRATIONS series. We did not speak for four months. I thought I should never see her again. Now I most likely really won't ever see her again.

[ When I was a teenager, my ~~fat~~ maternal grandfather called me a communist because of my infatuation with "a basic call to consciousness." * He thought that respecting those indigenous to the Americas was "anti-American." How Orwellian!

* MOHAWK NATION

In today's political climate, those who seek justice are no longer labelled as "communists" but as "terrorists." The spooks and secret agents must think I'm a "nut case." ] Am I a "Fili Disciple"?

[ Do my radical ideas frighten women? I mean, could it be that I am much better off alone? I would appreciate a "real woman," but a woman brainwashed by "too much TV" is actually a danger to such a radical thinker as Mike Hentrich. me ]

I am relaxed after a full day of reading with no compulsion to get drunk. It was blessed. The website I created is more "powerful" than gortbusters was - although the Aborigine isn't a part of it. Perhaps I should email a link to Old Harmony with an update on my condition.

He would be saddened to discover I am still messing with alcohol. I doubt he would ever register or post anything. Tomorrow being Friday, I will hit the library early... then maybe read on the beach near the ocean after eating some kind of food - most likely eggs.

I have not been eating well for several years now. Am I getting even skinnier? I have little fat and little muscle. ECTOMORPHIC.

Am I a "propagandist"? The stated intention of "The Ghost Shirt Society" is to "demolish entire sectors of society."

My day was filled with COSMIC WORK.
I went through material on hard-drive all morning, and then after eating at Trinity Church, did "my work" at APP Library. I worked with intense concentration!

Then I spoke with old Harry in the park. This poor old man is being harrassed by the Ashbury Park police...
2 tickets for drinking beer in the park. This could be up to $1000 in fines. Poor Harry thinks he may get "sent up the river" - meaning time in the county jail.

The whole ordeal is really killing him. His entire being is oppressed. The police, the system must know Harry is sharp as far as independent critical thinking goes.

He is a kindred spirit -
He goes to court November 3rd.
I'm going to find out where he is going to court. If in Freehold,
I think I will go there!!!

One of the books I dropped off to the Church on prospect and was Catcher in the Rye

Early in that book I come to learn a bit about my own life.
Even as I gave a copy away, I just now discovered I have another copy!

I will keep this copy with me,
It is an important book - and I want to "read along with Black America."

"If there is one thing I hate, it's the movies. Don't even mention them to me."

Reading "Catcher in the Rye" is a fun ritual because it ~~gives~~ effects my "internal attitude".

I put the book down as I was getting kind of bored. My own journals are more interesting.

Eli Arkin - intelligence officer, removed officer Reddit from the fire station.

Then FBI operative / fire-director Frank Holloman is put in place. He was the appointment secretary for J. Edgar Hoover.

This information was given to the police and the FBI but only came to light in the trial itself.

I sent JDF a link to The Short Shirt Society. I mentioned erictrips and possibly going to Seattle, Washington.

He says that he sees me feeling alright out there in Seattle, Washington.

He also understands that my mother is struggling. She is not alone.

I wonder if any Weber, Galfas, or Bente will help her when she is in dire straits. Tami will be there for her - and my dad ???

My nephew is doing the footwork for me.
 I didn't get any word from him yet. I wonder...

I am asking the ghost-shirts to celebrate the fall of empire, the crash of the Taken Prison.

I know it's not going to be pretty.

"It is time to speak your truth.

Create your community.

Be good to each other.

And do not look outside yourself for the leader. This could be a good time!

There is a river flowing now very fast. It is so great, and so swift that there are those who will be afraid.

They will try to hold onto the shore. They will feel they are being torn apart, and they will suffer greatly. I know the river has its destination. The elders say we must let go of the shore, and push off and into the river, Keep our eyes open, and our head above water. See, who is in there with you and Celebrate, at this time in history, we are to take nothing personally.

Least of all ourselves.

For the moment that we do, our spiritual growth and journey comes to a halt.

The time of the lone wolf is over.
Gather yourselves!

Banish the word struggle from your

All that you do now must be done in a sacred manner.
And in celebration.

We are the ones we've been waiting for.

I am truly ENJOYING reading CRITICS ON MARLOWE. Surely his ghost must be guiding me so that I may no longer fear State, public opinion,
God, or minister.

Those who want to threaten me with "plucking out my nose-hairs" be damned.

I am my own hero!

I terrify the slavish Christians and I beg the Muslims to take my head off!

I have no more fear - and this will surely have a disturbing affect on those who wish to intimidate me or see me "punished" for my WIT.

Tomorrow I can return 2 of the books on Marlowe. Maybe, if I hold off on the medication until the middle of the night, I can absorb CM: His Life & Works into my cranium.

27 October 2008 Monday

I am awakened at 5AM by a phone call from my nephew. His relationship with Robin is topsy-turvy at best, on the brink of disaster I most likely. He informed me that, were they to split up, he would be broken hearted, would consider suicide, and be heading back to New Jersey. I informed him that I most likely would not be able to transfer my section 8 to Washington state. Now I will not be disappointed when my section 8 case worker from New Jersey informs me that I can only get section 8 in Monmouth County.

Meanwhile, my mother suggests I keep in touch with my section 8 worker and stay in Ocean Grove for as long as the law will allow, perhaps even well beyond December 1st, beyond January 1st, into 2009.

What, then, about medicine?

Yet art thou stiff but Faustus and a man.
 Could'st thou make men to live eternally,
 Or being dead raise them to life again,
 Then of this profession were to be esteemed...

Marlowe's insatiable intellectual ambition is "the reaching out towards what is beyond the bounds of man."
 (A. L. Rouse)

He considers Justman -

A petty case of paltry legacies,
 Exhere ditare filium non potest pater, nisi -
 Such is the subject of the Institute
 And universal body of law!
 This study fits a mercenary drudge
 Who aims at nothing but external trash,
 Too servile and illiberal for me.

Aye, we must die an everlasting death.

What doctrine call you this? I che saia, saia:
 What will be, shall be.

Invoke Christ to punish the Christians for their dishonor to his name.

"In vain, I see, men worship Mahommed:-
My sword hath sent millions of Turks to hell
He slew all his priests, his kinsmen, and his friends,
And yet I live untouched by Mahommed."

Tamburlaine challenges Mahommed by burning the Koran:

"Now, Mahommed, if thou have any power,
Come down thyself and work a miracle
Thou art not worthy to be worshipped
That suffers flame of fire to burn the writ Wherein the sum of thy religion rests."

He felt great to write that. There is so much fear in the States and Europe.

It's ok for us to blaspheme against Christianity ~~but not~~ and Judaism, but "Allah forbid" one blasphemes Islam - then one is being a bigot. Fuckers.

[ What Marlowe would like to have shown on the stage was out of the question, but the inference is that Mahommed and the Koran, Christ and the Bible were interchangeable. All religions are equally invalid. It has been observed that in Marlowe's plays each of the great religions of his world, Christianity, Islam, Judaism, came under attack.

Marlowe was a spirit in revolt against the human condition. ]

I have been sensing that my life may end abruptly at any moment, any day, so my daily goal is to deepen my soul and mind. While reading before, I dozed off, and in the parallel universe, I was visited by a Black Queen Earth who appeared to be Candy (Larloncha) - she was kissing me tenderly and my whole body I felt I LOVED. I

It was Marlowe's paganism - temperament that was truly pagan, only one part of his mind. The rest was elsewhere, wrestling with deeper matters, facing with courage and honesty the problems of truth about man's life and his status in the universe.

We may say that the natural paganism of his temperament was crossed out by his searching and troubled intellect: out of the tension came his genius and his work - as also, perhaps, his death. (Rowse 1964)

In Rome the episode of the spatched banquet took place, which made such a fool of the pope.

Mephistophilis cast a spell upon Faustus to make him invisible for the purpose:

"Whilst on thy head I lay my hand
And charm thee with this magic wand:

First wear this girdle, then appear Invisible to all are here:
 The planets seven, the gloomy air,
 Hell, and the Furies' forked hair,
 Pluto's blue fire, and Hecate's tree
 With magic spells so compass thee
 That no eye may thy body see."

I'll have [the spirits] ~~fetch~~ read me strange philosophy.

Am I not a "spirit," an intelligence, an actual spirit-guide in the flesh, in that my presence on "the Internet" has been continuous since October 2002?
 GORTBUSTERS, then WHYWORK (CLAWS), and now THE GHOST SHIRT SOCIETY.

Kurt Vonnegut wrote about this in Player Piano --- The Devil's Party... but this website/forum could spread.
 THE GHOST SHIRT SOCIETY could be like a kind of FIGHT CLUB or 12 MONKEYS, but with philosophers as the "leaders."

105
I remember when my grandma Kenton (Emily - Dad's Mom of course) told me that she believes Hell is on earth.

Faustus wants to know where is the place that men call Hell. Mephistophilis answers him:

"Within the bowels of those elements,
Where we are tortured and remain forever.
Hell hath no limits nor is circumscribed
In one self place, but where we are is Hell,
And where Hell is there must be ever be."

"This word damnation terrifies not me
For I confound Hell in Elysium:
My ghost be with the old philosophers!"

Marlowe knew from early training, and from experience, the Church's teaching that the root of all sin is pride - an intellectual sin. It was peculiarly his own. And he well knew its consequences - hardening of the heart.

prurient - inordinately interested in sex.

" My heart is hardened, I cannot repent.
 Scarce can I name salvation, faith, or Heaven.
 Sword, poison, hammers, and envenomed steel
 Are laid before me to dispatch myself.
 And long ere this should have done I the deed
 Had not sweet pleasure conquered deep despair. "

prurient - inordinately interested in sex.
 * my interest in "the Forbidden Fruit"?

There is deep psychological truth in all this. Hardening of the heart leads to despair, & despair to self-destruction.
 All that remains to stare off that fate is intellectual curiosity, the prurient desire to know what is forbidden, and its analogue, sensual pleasure.

Lucifer tempts him "Faustus, in Hell is all manner of delight."

FAUSTUS: O, might I see Hell and return safe, how happy were I then!

LUCIFER: Faustus, thou shalt. At midnight I will send for thee.

Christopher Marlowe, knew all about the dark night of the soul.

" O, Pythagoras' metempsychosis, were that true
This soul should fly from me and I be changed
Unto some brutish beast -
All beasts are happy
For when they die
Their souls are soon dissolved in elements,
But mine must live still to be plagued in Hell!
Cursed be the parents that engendered me!
No, Faustus, curse thyself, curse Lucifer
That hath deprived thee of the joys of Heaven. "

" Whose fiendful fortune may exhort the wise
Only to wonder at unlawful things
Whose deepness doth entice such forward wits
To practice more than heavenly power permits. "

The words, "Cut is the branch that might have grown full straight," knowing how Kit was to perish at age 29, go on reverberating in the mind! We reflect that poets sometimes write with an unconscious knowledge of their fate.

Myself, I have come to doubt my sister's
 (1) honesty
 (2) intelligence

She is either dishonest or gullible.

How can she believe in the Virginity of Mary? Clearly the doctrine of the Virgin Birth is nonsense.

Like Kit Marlowe, I have an insubordinate and rebellious spirit. And I am proud of this SPIRIT. I cherish it.

One of Kit's greatest proclamations was that if he were put to write a new religion, he would undertake both a more excellent and admirable method (than the filthy written New Testament, that if the ~~sacra~~ sacrament had been instituted "with more ceremonial reverence, it would have been had in more admiration" - as it was, a tobacco pipe would serve better to administer it.

Marlowe was more inclined towards High Church unbelief, as opposed to Low Church:

"if there be any good religion, then it is in the Papists; That all Protestants are hypocritical asses."

Marlowe did write a treatise of a scriptural kind, probably expressing anti-Trinitarian opinions, which was destroyed.

It is all more and more unliking Shakespeare! We hear much about scepticism, unbelief, atheism; but almost always from the orthodox, from the people in control of society and opinion. We hear very little from the free-thinking minority, for the most effectuated of all reasons: they were gagged and suppressed, their mouths were stopped.

Peele paid tribute to Marlowe:

"Unhappy in thine end, Marlowe, the Muses' darling, for thy verse Fit to write passions for the souls below."

Nashe, speaking of Marlowe: "His life he condemned in comparison of the liberty of speech."

Gabriel Harvey - a jealous hater of Marlowe, gives an unintentional tribute to the strength of Marlowe's personality:

"He that nor feared God,
nor dreaded Devil,
Nor aught admired but his wonderful self."

Marlowe was a nature divided against himself. I wonder why Cohen & Wilson did not dedicate a chapter to Kit in his book THE OUTSIDER.

Myself, I am in exile due to the greatness of my intellect.

Marlowe's scepticism was intellectual, his disbelief aggressive. Kit saw the absurdity of all religions, each claiming a unique monopoly of truth, and it angered him that human beings should be so silly [stupid].

Knowledge is power, to storm and cross all barriers of experience.

Marlowe, like myself, may be blamed for his conduct of himself enabling the Pharisaees (or Puritans) to rejoice.

Now I am confident that my spirit has developed over the years to the point where I may enter (or be pulled into) parallel dimensions of the great reality and see more clearly than when I "awake".

Black Angels have been visiting me and really loving me with tender kisses and coo sounds. My encounter with S may have hardened my heart, but somehow my tears have earned me WINGS-OF-SPIRIT.

H

Perhaps the reason it takes me so long to get through books such as VALIS and STAND ON ZANZIBAR is that I am not really as into "novels" or "stories" as I am into learning, knowledge, and wisdom.

Magi comes from the Persian Magus and Magi... The magus is the sorcerer.

Magi hoped to extract answers to all things mysterious. Magic has the power to EXPERIENCE and FATHOM things which are inaccessible to human reason. For magic is a great secret wisdom, just as reason is a great public folly.

Maybe I can create a forum in "The Dark Side" section of GSS called SECRET WISDOM... or perhaps I will keep this wisdom to myself so as to protect it from being mocked or misunderstood. Tomorrow I would like to study RAISING HELL by Robert Massello.

Is the Mojo Manual (my collection of private journals, my Book of Secrets) a grimoires - ~~a~~ <sup>a</sup> mighty and seemingly impenetrable books, filled with confusing and arcane lore?

Their very obscurity fends off dilettantes and rewards the wizard willing to put in the required time and effort.

If you can get through the grimoire itself, you were halfway to meeting a demon.

These books hold the power to unlock occult powers and wisdom.

It is eerie that the advice on the proper ways to invoke the infernal powers ~~is~~ are things I already <sup>was</sup> quite "naturally" without any instructions, at all, I namely, for the space of an entire quarter moon, the sorcerer was advised to keep his thoughts centered on the task before him, to eat no more than two meals a day, to sleep little, and to change his clothes as infrequently as possible."

The spirit, Lucifer, lorded over Europe and Asia. The spirit, Beelzebub, resided in Africa. Astaroth lived in America.

[from Grimorium Verum = True Grimoire]
© 1517. These spirits had to find a body to inhabit - one suited to their manifestation and appearance.

DEMONS

Bechard - has power over many natural forces, including rain and hail, thunder and lightning.

Frimost - can control the bodies and minds of women and girls.

Klepoth can provide you with insightful visions and dreams.

Khil can create earthquakes on demand.

Mersilde can magically transport you anywhere, instantaneously.

Clisthere can turn the day into night, or the night into day, whenever you feel the need for a sudden change.

Sirchade can introduce you to any one of a huge assortment of animals, both real and supernatural.

Hicpacth can deliver you to anyone you want to see, from whatever distance, in the batting of an eye.

Humots can provide you with any book you want.

Frucjssiere can bring the dead back to life.

Surgat can unlock anything

Morail can bestow invisibility on anyone or any object.

Frutimiere can serve up any feast you desire.

Huictiigaras can put you to sleep or create insomnia.

I'm not sure if a "manual of black magic" is necessary. Suppose the spirits of the earth choose to teach me via dreams.

* idea for series: The Liber Spirituum
(The Book of Spirits)

Standing inside a magic circle (can be imagined), recite the Conjunction of Spirits, in which you call upon "all the Spirits of the Hells."

I, going presently by the name "Comical Cant," am a rebellious spirit. Note the similarity between Comical Cant and Concrete Kite. Also see the humor: Immanuel Kant!
